

Directions for making a Dichotomous Key: Separate your objects into two piles that are distinct (example: straight and not straight). Divide each pile into two more distinct piles until you have separated each object into its own unique category. Write down the steps in the boxes as you go. Add on to the flow chart as needed.

