Working in the CCMR Keck Lab – Safety Training

The following on-line safety training courses are required before you can be trained or use the Zeiss Gemini SEM or the Keck SEM.

- Laboratory safety (EHS course #2555-laboratory)
- Fire Safety (EHS course #5330-firesafety)
- Chemical waste disposal (EHS course #2716-chemwaste)
- For information about EH&S safety courses see:
<https://www.ccmr.cornell.edu/facilities/becoming-a-ccmr-facilityuser/training-requirements/>

Working in the CCMR Keck Lab – Safety Rules

- No wet chemistry is allowed in the lab, so do not bring any chemicals into the lab. All samples must be prepared in your own lab.
- Do not bring hazardous samples or materials into the lab. Contact Mick Thomas with any questions.
- This is not a storage facility - you must take specimens, stubs, and raw material with you when you leave.
- Do not bring any food or drink into F-3 or the SEM room.
- Users failing to follow safety rules will be denied access to the lab.
